Story taken from ONTARIO SOCIETY PAPERS AND RECORDS

Vol. XXV by Ernest Green.

Philip George Bender, a native of Germany, and his wife, born in Holland, emigrated, early in the second half of the eighteenth century, to New Jersey, removing after a short time to Philadelphia. In the winter of 1776 they formed part of a company of 53 loyalist refugees who, having been driven from their homes, took the wilderness trails towards Niagara. Exhaustion, hunger, cold and disease so beset them that only 7 reached Fort Niagara in the following April --- Bender and his wifebeing of the number. Some of the others had found refuge with sympathizers along the way, some had sought shelter with Indians, some had laid down to die in the forest. (Tradition).

Bender enlisted in Butler's Rangers in 1778 and a rved five years. To was one of the two first a ttlers in Stamford township, and chose his land on the brink of the gorge, facing the Pells. He was granted 300 acres, with family lands added later. His lots now form a large part of the site of the city of Niagara Falls. Two dildren had been brought from the lost home in Pennsylvania (it is believed that they were left with friends and sent to Niagara some time after the flight of the parents) and three others were born before 1789. Elinor, a daughter, married John Burch, Jr.
